The Great Fraud Consummated.

Our telegraphic despatches tell the story. The English Conference bill passed both Houses of Congress yesterday—in the Senate by a vote of 31 to 19, and the House by 112 to 103. [The Ayes and Noes in the House were sent us by telegraph, but, as usual, they are so imperfect, that we omit them.]

Delays of Washington Mails to the West.

Our Washington correspondent complained in a recent letter of the delay in getting letters to Chicago from Washington. We have been investigating the cause to some extent, and find that the Post Office Department sends to Through Agent with the Great Western mail to Chicago, A Through Agent connecting the New York mail each day, over the Erie Road as far as Cleveland, where he takes the bulk of his mail to the irresponsible care of baggage masters, and follows a fragment of it that Cleveland lives to Cincinnati, over the Cleveland, Cincinnati and Columbus Railroad.

A French Agent starts from Philadelphia West, every morning, with the mail. At Harrisburg he sees and talks with the mail from Washington and Baltimore, and proceeds with it on the Pennsylvania Central to Pittsburgh, thence to Crestline on the Chicago and Ft. Wayne Road. At Crestline he gets rid of his mail, takes out what mail matter is directed to Cincinnati, puts it on the train from Cleveland, and leaves it on the main front Cleveland, Cincinnati and Columbus Railroad.
